Description Dear Understanding Society team, I am working on the Covid-Wave 4 Caring within the household module and wondered if you can help me with a question on the last question in the module, cd_carehknow. This question reports changes in caring within the household in the last four weeks compared to Jan/Feb. There are also questions relating to current caring earlier in the module (e.g. cd_aidhh). There is no routing for the cd_carehknow question and some reports from cd_aidhh don't seem to match with cd_carehknow, for instance, 135 individuals reported providing more help to the same people as previously (cd_carehknow3) but didn't report currently providing help (cd_aidhh). Can you tell me if cd_aidhh only refers to the last week or whether there are other differences I should think about when using these questions? With thanks Emma

Response from the team:

The routing instructions in the questionnaire for the question AIDHH shows that it is only asked of people who do not live alone. There is no explicit time frame in the question, but implicitly this asks about 'now'.

The question BLCAREHH is asked of everyone, about whether they cared for anyone in their household back in Jan/FEB. The answers to AIDHH and BLCAREHH could be different if the household composition has changed or caring responsibilities have changed.

The question CAREHNOW* is also asked of everyone, the time frame is the last four weeks.

So, it is possible for someone to report that they have provided more help to the same people in the last 4 weeks (CAREHNOW*), even if they are not currently caring for anyone in their household (AIDHH).

Hope this helps
