Description
Is there a core module where there is a list of questions which is asked at the start of each participant's participation in the longitudinal study. e.g. Welsh language use? which I have been told is part of the 'core' module?

Hello,

While there are some core questions that are asked every wave, these are not provided as a separate module, but scattered across the questionnaire.

The questionnaires that are available show all the questions that are asked, in the order in which they are asked, along with instructions that are provided. These are available here: <https://www.understandingsociety.ac.uk/documentation/mainstage/questionnaires>

Hope that helps.

Best wishes,
Alita

But if you are interested in specific questions, you can either do a search across the questionnaires, or search using our interactive variable search: <https://www.understandingsociety.ac.uk/documentation/mainstage/dataset-documentation>
Here you can search using words or index terms/key words.
