Description Hi, I am looking for data relating to the motor development of children who are either in foster care or have experienced childhood adversity as part of my PhD. I have looked on the website to see if these groups of children have been involved in data collection but cannot see anything conclusive. Please can you tell me whether this is something that would be possible to look at? Thank you Ali Whitehouse

Dear Ali,

You can see if a child has a foster parent using the relationship_dv variable from the egoalt datafile and fpx_pidp_1/2 from the xhrel file. Regarding adversity this depends on the definition, there might be some questions capturing events that would be of your interest.

I hope this helps.

Best wishes,
Piotr Marzec
