Description
Dear members of the technical support staff of Understanding Society,
May I ask if, among the derived variables, there are variables that capture contextual factors, like (for instance) employment or unemployment rate at regional or county level?
Thanks for your attention

Dear Luis,

I am afraid we don't release such derived variables, except for the quintiles of the Index of Multiple Deprivation which is released separately for the UK countries.

Best wishes,
