Description
Hello,
I was wondering if there any way of identifying from the website (or other source) all the research publications to date that have analysed longitudinal (as opposed to cross-sectional) data from the survey? This does not seem to be possible at present using the existing filter terms.
Many thanks for any information/help.
Kind regards
Orla

Dear Orla,

Unfortunately this is not possible at present via the publications search on the UKHLS website.

Best wishes, Victoria.
